ACA Pacific Forms Strategic Partnership with Global Brands
Leading IT distributor brings four global IT security & networking brands to local market

SINGAPORE, 26 November 2007 – ACA Pacific Technology (S) Pte Ltd (“ACA Pacific”), a leading IT distributor within the Asia-Pacific region, is expanding its foothold in the security and networking market with its appointment as the distributor for four international brands - Aruba Networks, Crescendo Networks, Secudos and phion AG.

Aruba Networks is the provider of user-centric networks and secure mobility solutions whereas Crescendo specializes in application acceleration and optimization. phion AG is a leading provider of enterprise FW-VPN-UTM solution. Its powerful netfence suite of products offers firewall, VPN, IPS, URL filtering, antivirus, anti-spam, end point security (personal FW and VPN client), traffic intelligence and a highly scalable management solution. Secudos makes easy-to-use security appliances and counts phion AG and Check Point, Microdasys, Websense and Aladdin as some of its solution partners.

ACA Pacific’s appointment by these brands is in line with the company’s objective of forging more strategic partnership with dynamic global companies. The company markets only best of breed technology solutions to resellers and provides a variety of services, including logistics, integrated marketing services, pre and post sales support, training and certification courses as well as comprehensive customer service. This move also paves way for these IT brands to penetrate the local market, with ACA Pacific helping them to drive their brand awareness and revenue in the local industries.

Speaking on this historic occasion, ACA Pacific managing director Mark Gill said, “We are excited about the alliances as these brands complete our suite of security product portfolio and complement our corporate objectives. We look forward to offering this region’s enterprise market base a complete and value choice of quality security solutions.”

Apart from the security and networking solutions, ACA Pacific also carries five other product lines in Singapore namely: Design Automation, Media and Entertainment, Data Storage and Backup, Document Imaging and Business Applications.

“ACA Pacific, one of the most established value-added distributors in this region, provides excellence know-how in all sectors of IT security. We are convinced that ACA Pacific will successfully position and market our solutions to the local enterprises,” commented Albert Fragner, Area Sales Director of phion AG.

The other IT brands under the ACA Pacific’s security and networking category of products and solutions include Aladdin, Attachmate, BorderWare, Consentry Networks, ClearSwift, Crescendo Networks, FaceTime, Internet Security Systems (ISS), KACE, McAfee, NetworkChemistry, Novell, SonicWall, Talariix, Trend Micro and Tripwire.

Gill adds that ACA Pacific will continue to add more technology brands under its portfolio to ensure that its customers always have an attractive range of technological solutions for better returns on their IT investments.
